MARCH 2025 NEWSLETTER

SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST 2025

Attention all Lebanon County High School Seniors!

We are excited to offer three - $1000 scholarships for high school seniors in Lebanon County. This contest aims to support and encourage students as they pursue their higher education goals.

We strongly encourage all eligible students to apply for this scholarship and take advantage of this opportunity to ease the financial burden of higher education.

"We are excited to offer these opportunities to our community," said Cornell Wilson, President. "We believe that fostering creativity and supporting education are essential to building a vibrant and thriving community. We look forward to seeing the incredible talent and passion of our participants."

Volunteer at Stoneridge Retirement

At our heartwarming volunteer event, we organized a lively game of bingo with the residents. The room was filled with laughter and excitement as numbers were called out and participants eagerly marked their cards. The camaraderie and shared joy created a memorable experience for both the volunteers and the residents.

2025 Poetry Contest Winners

We are excited to reveal the winners of our Poetry Contest! 🌟 Following thorough evaluation and a genuine admiration for the remarkable talent demonstrated, we have chosen the top poets who have truly captivated us with their creativity and love for language. Congratulations to all for your exceptional submissions. Each of you has beautifully captured the spirit of poetry and touched our hearts with your enchanting works. Thank you to everyone who took part and shared your amazing creations.

7-11 Age Group Winning Poem

1960 is the year,
Rhino horns are valuable here.
Step right up, to a window of the past!
See how Black Rhinos went away, real fast.

An African hunter's one goal at this time,
was to get a black rhino in its prime.
The buyer would use it to carve, or for medicine,
The rhino's child is now an orphan.

In 1977, humans tried to help the Rhinos.
Now poaching is illegal, but everyone knows...
People still hunt them.
Those poor rhinos.

Now, In 2017, Kenya is where one young rhino roams,
People have destroyed all his old homes.
His mother was illegally killed, used for her horns,
Now, at two, this poor rhino mourns.

twenty-five people come in broad daylight.
Around his snout, a sturdy rope is tied.
He is led into a box, with very strong sides.

He can't get out. What will he do?
After about a minute, the box starts to move.
Now, two hours later, light shines in his box.
He's led into a pasture, with trees, grass, and rocks.

He wants to be afraid, but somehow he knows,
He has been led somewhere safe, almost like he's home.
This rhino is home, in Rwanda, a safe park,
Soon the dirt is covered with the Rhino's hoof marks.

12-18 Age Group Winning Poem

"Sun Is Shining Today"

and the night shines over another mysterious day
a day of injustice and misery
the unfairness and trickery
that looms over this nation
it's a large shadow that looms over "the land of the free"
and a disgusting blemish of "the home of the brave"
a country that's needs to be saved
from its own hatred and own people
and the steep hill that involves the salvation of my hispanic and black brothers and sisters in this nation
especially when the oligarchy of the land thinks to mask anything that isn't a part of their agenda as a crime
and the people of my color and different colors
that aren't white
seem to be in the process of being banned
but rise up and fight
for those who were mistreated now
will not be mistreated today
and those who were judged for the color of their skin yesterday
shall be judged by the contents of their character in the present and let no man who's in the majority
think of you as a peasant
and let no man or woman who look at you make you feel unpleasant in your own body
in your own skin and representing your own blood
and like a rose growing from the mud beat the adversity of being judged for the color of your skin or the heritage that you represent because even when the moon falls upon the sky
our fiery, strong sun
shines another day
and the past of our brothers who fought for us
will never decay
and the ray of justice that our people deserve
will possibly shine tomorrow, but hopefully today

Women's History Month

Every March, we commemorate Women's History Month to honor the remarkable contributions women have made throughout history. This month-long celebration shines a spotlight on trailblazing women from all walks of life who have broken barriers and paved the way for future generations. From scientists and activists to artists and leaders, we take this time to recognize and celebrate their achievements and the progress that has been made toward gender equality. Join us as we honor the past, celebrate the present, and inspire the future with stories of resilience, courage, and triumph.

Gratitude to the Women on Our Board

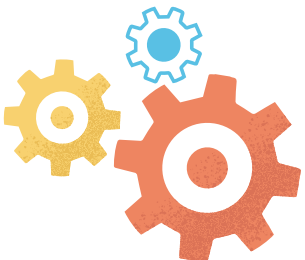

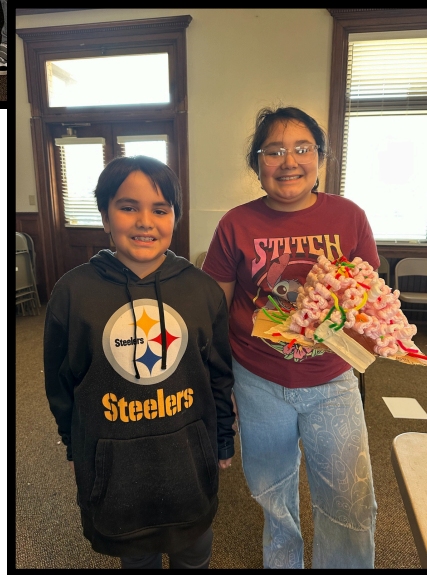

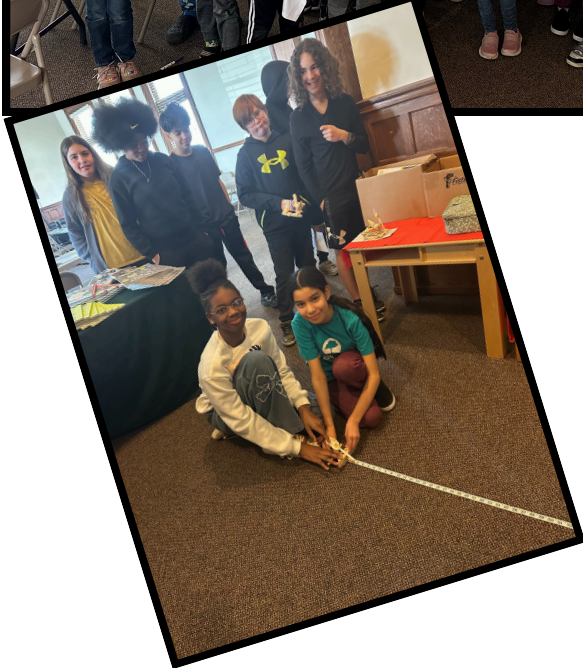

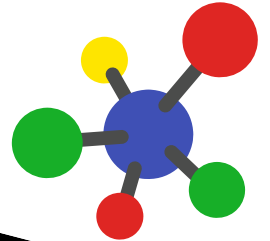

As we celebrate Women's History Month, we want to express our heartfelt appreciation to the incredible women on our board. Your leadership, dedication, and vision inspire us all and drive our organization forward. Your contributions and unwavering commitment set a powerful example and make a lasting impact on our mission. Thank you for everything you do!

Winter STEM camp!

The Artic STEM Camp organized by Making a Difference of Lebanon, PA, was a success!! The day camp offered a unique blend of science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM) education, paired with artistic expression, empowering students to explore these fields through hands-on activities and projects. By providing a supportive and engaging environment, the camp sparked curiosity and encouraged critical thinking, while also promoting teamwork and problem-solving skills. Thank you to all of the sponsors who help make these opportunities possible.
